

PROPAGANDA BEING SPREAD TO DETER NAVAL BUILDING

Senator Borah Says
He Hears England
is Spreading It

NAVY DEPARTMENT HAS THE FACTS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The statement that he had received suggestions that Great Britain was "circulating propaganda" in the country to deter American naval building was made in the Senate today by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho during a general debate on disarmament. He understood, he said that the facts were in the possession of the navy department.
Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, author of the Senate naval committee's recent adverse report on Senator Borah's suggestion for a six months naval holiday in answer to a question whether the committee's investigation has disclosed any such situation replied that there had been some testimony on the subject but the committee did not believe it should be made public.
"If this information is in the hands of the navy department," Senator Borah said, "the Congress should have it. We are informed that in the archives of the navy department there is proof of the propaganda conducted by Great Britain. At the same time we are told the British ambassador is on his way here to suggest a disarmament congress."
Borah Urges Agreement.
Senator Borah again urged that an agreement be reached between the naval forces for reduction of building programs and also advocated a careful investigation to determine whether capital ships are tactically obsolete.
"Unless there is an agreement reached between the United States and the powers competing in naval building," he said, "it will lead to war inevitably."
Senator Poindexter in defending the naval committee's report supporting the capital shipbuilding program, said he would like to know whether Great Britain would reduce its fleet to the present strength of the American navy and if the Japanese would actually stop naval construction. He asserted that the British main fleet was twice as strong as the American and that Japan would equal the American strength within the next three or four years.
Senator Smith, Democrat, Georgia, suggested that Great Britain give the United States in payment of its war debt half of its naval vessels so that the two powers could be equal in strength.

AUTHORITIES SAY NO DANGER FROM EUROPEAN TYPHUS

Precautions Are Taken That Will Prevent Spread of Disease

DANGER LIES IN FILTHY CONDITIONS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Precautions taken and steps contemplated are believed by health authorities to be sufficient to prevent a spread of the European typhus epidemic to the United States, Secretary Tumulty tonight informed Dr. R. S. Copeland, New York city health commissioner.
Secretary Tumulty in a telegram to Dr. Copeland quoted a report on the typhus situation from the secretary of the treasury who declared there was nothing to warrant the step suggested by the New York health commissioner in a telegram yesterday to the white house—imposition of a ban on the admission of immigrants from typhus infested districts. Dr. Copeland's suggestion resulted from the arrival at the Port of New York within the last few days of more than thirty cases of typhus.
Surgeon-General Cummings, in a statement issued during the day said that even should typhus get into the United States, "there is no reason to fear that its induction would be followed by epidemics on the same scale as in Europe."
"The disease spreads only in unsanitary and filthy surroundings, for, so far as known the disease is spread only by lice," he said.

COMPERS TELLS OF AMERICAN LABOR AT PEACE CONFERENCE

Says They Did Not Get What in Justice They Should

DEFENDS VOTES GRANTED BRITISH

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11.—American labor did not leave the peace conference in Paris with all it felt in justice that it ought to have secured but it left with all that was possible to get declared Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor tonight before the Philadelphia Public Ledger forum on the peace conference. Discussing the labor disputes of the peace treaty and the difficulties met and overcome in reaching decisions upon them, Mr. Compers censured socialist members of the commission on international labor legislation maintaining that they constantly were of assistance to those who were trying to weaken the labor provisions that were written into the treaty.
In defending the granting of a separate vote to each of the British dominions, he declared that they were "more often with progress than against it."
"I am not a socialist," he said, "and I look upon it as something of a dependable guide, that the vote of the representatives of these dominions and commonwealths were made in effect with the United States and with England. The fact is in my opinion that progress is safeguarded by the British possessions having been given the vote." "With but few exceptions the viewpoint of the American Labor movement constructive, Democratic, uncontaminated by any of the philosophies that are cousin to Bolshevism is shared only by the labor movement of these self-governing dominions and commonwealths."
Concerning the benefits accruing from the labor provisions, he continued:
"In my opinion there are serious defects in the labor provisions of the treaty. But I also know that these defects could not be moved in Paris because every possible effort was made to secure their removal."
"American labor felt then as it feels now that the proper course was to make the best fight possible and to work during the ensuing years for the securing of amendments."

DeSANTIS CONFESSES
BEFORE HANGING

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., Feb. 11.—The story of how an innocent man went to his death at the hands of a mob, for another man's crime, came to light after Settino DeSantis, an Italian miner, was hanged here today for the murder of Amel Chacoterra and Tony Hemphill, two boys.
Before he was led to the gallows, DeSantis confessed to the murder of Edward Chapman, in Johnson City, Ill., six years ago, for which crime another Italian, Frank Bianco, had been working together in a coal mine at Johnson City shortly before the Chapman murder and, upon being discharged by Ben Schull, the mine foreman, they made a threat to "get him."
Several nights later, a bullet crashed thru a window at the Schull home where Schull, his wife and father-in-law, Mr. Chapman were sitting. It missed Schull and killed Chapman. DeSantis and Bianco disappeared the night Bingo was caught by a mob and lynched.
Several months ago Bianco who also was implicated in the murders for which DeSantis was hanged today, made a confession in which he charged DeSantis fired the shot that killed Chapman and a few days later committed suicide in jail while his trial was in progress. DeSantis then confessed to another Italian, Tony Maroni, who was one of the interpreters at the trial, that he had accidentally shot Chapman while trying to kill Schull.
DeSantis was buried in Marion Potter's field near the grave of Bianco late today when his wife failed to claim the body.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The origin of the tragic Wall street bomb explosion which snuffed out 39 lives and severely injured hundreds of others last September appears to be wrapped in eternal mystery.
When seventeen boxes filled with bolts, jagged iron nuggets and other death dealing missiles—remnants of the notorious "Death Wagon," supposed to have hauled the infernal machine to the scene of the tragedy—were locked up today in a police warehouse, reminiscent policemen remarked that all the multifarious flimsy clues apparently had been followed to the fading out point.
Since the remnants of the old "ramshackle drag" have been rusting at police headquarters no less than 300 wagon makers painters and cabinet makers have come from remote corners of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut in vain efforts to trace its maker.

He was urged to take the presidency but the duties take up more time than the Jacksonville man feels able to devote to it. Later he consented to accept the vice presidency. The organization is influential and includes clothing men in all parts of the state. The feeling at this convention was one of optimism because of the return to normal conditions. The members were of one mind in expressing the opinion that prices now are as low as they will be.

SENSATION CREATED BY STAR WITNESS IN NOTED MURDER TRIAL

Miss Mary Neeley Says That
McGannon is Not Guilty

SISTER TELLS OF BRIBE OFFER

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 11.—Miss Mary E. Neely, counted upon as star witness for the state in the second trial of Judge William H. McGannon, charged with second degree murder in connection with the slaying of Harold C. Kagy, on May 7 last, created a sensation when she took the witness stand today and declared repeatedly that Judge McGannon is innocent of the killing of Kagy.

After being asked a few formal questions by County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton, Miss Neely started the court room when Stanton asked her:
"Did you see Judge McGannon on or about May 7?"
"I refuse to answer because in so doing I might disgrace or incriminate myself. Judge McGannon is not guilty of the murder of Harold C. Kagy."

Miss Neely was one of the principal witnesses for the state in the first McGannon trial. At that time she testified she "saw McGannon take something from his pocket. Simultaneously there was a flash of a shot and Kagy fell forward."
A second sensation came as a climax to the Neely testimony when Ella E. Webb, sister of Miss Neely, took the stand and again told of overhearing a conversation in her sister's apartment in which McGannon offered Miss Neely $500 to go down to the prosecutor and say she was mistaken.

DINNERS GIVEN AT TWO LOCAL CHURCHES

Fathers and Sons of State Street and Baptist Churches Gathered for Fine Programs.

One hundred persons were present at the fathers and sons banquet held at a State Street Church Friday night. The chicken pie menu was served by the ladies of the church and was of a kind which left nothing to be desired. Music by a trio, Miss Margaret Tomlinson, piano; Edward Tomlinson, mandolin, and Ollie Parker, trombone, added greatly to the interest of the event.

H. H. Bancroft served most acceptably as toastmaster. The principal speaker was Rev. Mr. Dando, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Decatur. This minister has made a wonderful record in the development of young people's activities in the church with which he is associated and was well qualified to talk on the question of closer relationship between fathers and sons.

Other speakers were Harry Fitch "What a son expects of his father," and William Nicol, "What the father expects of his son." An entertaining reading was given by Elmer Nicol. The serving of the supper was in charge of Mrs. William Miller, Miss Mayme Dobyns, Miss Edna Wardlaw, Mrs. Ben Wood, Mrs. W. D. Doying, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. Foley, Mrs. Harry Brady, Mrs. E. E. Crabtree, Mrs. E. M. Dunlap, Mrs. L. O. Vaughn, Miss Lena Engel and Mrs. W. H. Marbach.

The tables were prettily decorated with flowers thru generosity of the Hoffman Floral Co. The committee on arrangements for this very successful event included Carl E. Robinson, L. O. Vaughn, J. S. Findley, W. G. Goebel, R. I. Dunlap and Henry Goebel.

DUBLIN, Feb. 11.—The official survey of conditions in Ireland during the week ended Feb. 5 issued today, states that the campaign of outrages against the crown forces, was continued with intensity, entailing thirty five casualties among these forces during the week, twenty one cases involving mortal injury.

FOR PUBLICITY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—During before the senate committee considering the coal regulation bill, Representative Huddleston, Democrat, read what purported to be a transcript of the proceedings at a meeting of the directors of the National Coal association held in June, 1919, at which the motions were said to have been made to appropriate money for publicity to get consumers to buy coal while the operators stood pat on prices.

J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the association told the committee that the transcript might or might not be an authentic record.

T. T. Brewster of St. Louis, was alleged to have suggested $300,000 for the publicity campaign but the total was left for future decision, the some money was made immediately available.

Alfred M. Ogle of Terre Haute, Ind., was quoted as advocating particularly paid advertising about the danger of a coal shortage because he said, it changes the attitude of newspapers.

New York, Feb. 11.—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they held $19,347,530 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $4,425,180 from last week.

Sir Henry Wood, the famous English orchestra conductor, says that hereafter he will always include women in his organization. He says that they give tone to it. Certainly that's the best of reasons for membership in an orchestra.

The Chicago Tribune's inquiring reporter in one day asked five people as to their opinion of working efficiency since the closing of Chicago saloons. Every one of these persons, chosen at random, testified to the increased efficiency. Chicago papers have seldom printed such a direct testimonial to the good effects of prohibition.

James H. Wilkerson, recently chairman of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission, told a convention of utility men the other day that their greatest need is a public understanding of utility conditions. Until the people get the point of confidence in utility organizations Mr. Wilkerson says that courts and laws and commissions can do the utilities very little good.

That was sound argument and based upon many years of experience. The time must come when the utility concerns give the fullest publicity to all of their affairs and treat the public with entire frankness.

The case of those who complain about the search and seizure act as a violation of personal liberty does not seem to be well founded. The preparations for the recent application of the law here made it clear that such a warrant cannot be issued unless there is quite certain evidence that a federal law is being violated. Some people have had the idea that all that was necessary for the issuance of a search and seizure warrant was an application. That is by no means true.

Now the state agricultural association is said to be arranging for memberships in the principal grain exchanges. That sounds like a very practical way of getting in to touch with the actual operation of the exchanges. Now if exchange membership makes it possible to take advantage of the producer, the grain growers can have the pleasure of taking advantage of themselves.

It's not a new statement but one of the most favorable signs of the times is the greater interest that churches are taking in young people's work. Now some of the most conservative of the church people are understanding that Boy Scout work and other lines of activities that tend thru normal ways to build up stability of character have a proper place in their church program.

People are realizing, as a minister said recently, "Now that we have moved along the broad highway of modernism the old methods as applied to the church and religious education will not do." The father and son movement is just another evidence of the recognition of the fact that the proper training of youth is the big question of today because it concerns the citizenship of tomorrow.

At one of the "father and son" banquets held recently one of the "sons" in speaking of his country, referred to the corruption in the government of many of the municipalities and urged the younger men, the "boys" of today, to cultivate a greater knowledge of public affairs from a political standpoint. Reforms must come through the great political parties, and as the laws read today, the reform must begin with the primary elections for the selection of candidates. There are many men who pass the responsibility with the cry of "rotten politics," and take no part in the selection, make no effort to induce men of higher character to accept the burden of an official position. When the selections are made by the different parties, by the votes of men who do take an interest in the primary elections, present the fact that one of their own number has not been placed on a ticket.

The vote of any one man counts for just as much as that of another. A candidate for alderman has been elected in Jacksonville by a majority of one-half of one vote. The young man addressing the "fathers and sons," but more particularly the "sons," is right. It is the duty of every voter to register his choice to vote, to do his part, to accept his share of responsibility. The spirit that prompts a man to criticize, to denounce when he makes no effort to better conditions, is not an encouraging one.

Educate the boys to a knowledge of their responsibility, that every vote counts, and that it is their duty and privilege to study men and measures. Endeavor to understand not only municipal and state, but national problems, educate themselves as to the responsibilities imposed by the right of "equal suffrage." Conscience will guide them.

The "Scout Master" was right—begin with the sons—some of the "fathers" are hopeless.

BATTLEFIELDS OF FRANCE IS FORUM TOPIC
James H. Shaw of Bloomington, who has just arrived home from visiting the battlefields of France and Belgium, will speak of the battle line as it looks today at the Community forum on Sunday evening at the Congregational church.

Many people in this community will remember the forum speaker as one of the promoters of the Jacksonville chautauqua. Mr. Shaw is now head of a large chautauqua bureau and is a very successful manager. The lecture which will be delivered Sunday evening has been received favorably in the last few weeks at rotary clubs, chambers of commerce and other community organizations. In his tour over ground of conflict in France and Belgium Mr. Shaw had an excellent opportunity of observing conditions relative to the tremendous program of construction which is under way in the war stricken area. The Community forum is held at the Congregational church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

LINCOLN'S BLACK HAWK WAR RECORD

On a beautiful April morning in 1832 a messenger rode into New Salem posting and scattering hand bills on the stores and in them and about every place, and then rode out as unceremoniously as he rode in, all of which proved to be a proclamation from Governor Reynolds notifying everybody in general and the militia in particular that there was trouble on the "Western Front" and that the country must be made safe for the "Paleface."

The Offut store had just gone into bankruptcy and Lincoln was out of a job. Mr. Offut had gone to parts unknown and Lincoln was undecided whether to remain at New Salem picking up odd jobs or "seek fields afresh and pastures green."

Previous to this time he had become a member of the militia and had been elected captain of the New Salem company which had been accustomed to meet for drill twice a year. These were snappy occasions and quite enjoyable, especially after the drill was over. Something with a "kick" in it, not a "white mule" either, added to the excitement of the occasion.

Every able bodied male inhabitant was regarded by the state law as a member and was required to so meet and drill under penalty of a fine of $1. Dollars being about as scarce in those days as the proverbial "hen's teeth," it is needless to say that there were no "slackers" nor "conscientious objectors," either.

Upon reading the proclamation Lincoln immediately seized paper and his quill pen and making an appropriate heading, signed the same and invited others to join him in raising a company. At the same time there was one Kirkpatrick, the owner and operator of a saw mill a few miles up the river from New Salem, who had conceived the idea that it would be quite an honor to be captain of this company and had been quite busy arranging for meetings of volunteers at Richland, New Salem and other nearby places.

A short time before this Kirkpatrick had employed Lincoln to move some saw logs, stipulating that he (Kirkpatrick) would furnish the cant hook. At the specified time Lincoln promptly reported for service but no cant hook. They then entered into an agreement whereby Lincoln was to have $2 more for moving the logs without a cant hook. Now any one who has had any experience in moving saw logs knows it is a man's job to move them without the help of a cant hook. Nevertheless the logs were promptly moved.

But lo! When the time came for payment Kirkpatrick had a "change of heart" and had concluded that the original price would be about right, especially for a man out of a job. This, the Clary's Grove boys called "a dirty trick" and decided to rebuke Kirkpatrick. We will let Bill Green, who was present, tell it in his own words.

"Quietly circulating among the crowd, they spread their propaganda until assured of a clear majority in Abe's favor and when the time came for election of captain it was suggested and agreed that Kirkpatrick and Lincoln should step out to the front facing in the same direction a short distance apart, and all those favoring Kirkpatrick for captain should fall in behind him and all those favoring Lincoln should fall in behind him. This was done and Lincoln's line was twice as long as Kirkpatrick's."

This took place at Richland, a few miles south of New Salem. After agreeing on the things necessary to take along they parted to meet at Beardstown April 21, 1832, where the election of Lincoln as captain was officially confirmed by the company, becoming a part of the Fourth regiment of mounted volunteers in General Whiteside's brigade.

The next day they crossed the river and plunged into the wilderness, proceeding very cautiously to avoid surprise from ambush.

These Sac Indians had a very unpleasant way of going "over the top" and taking the "lop" with them as a souvenir. The boys had no objection to giving them souvenirs but they preferred to give them squirrel shot as such. From Beardstown they marched to Rock Island, thence up Rock river to a point near Rockford, thence south to Ottawa, a journey of about 300 miles, and the only Indian they saw was one friendly Indian. Their term of enlistment having expired they were disbanded at Ottawa May 27, 1832. As soon as they were discharged all the New Salem boys "beat it" for home and fireside except Lincoln. He having no home or fireside either, enlisted as a private in Capt. Alexander White's company May 26, the day before his company was mustered out.

For reasons not recorded, he did not go on with this company, but reenlisted the next day, May 27, again as a private in Capt. Elijah He's company for the unprecedented term of twenty days and on June 16 the company was mustered out. On the same day Lincoln reenlisted again.

On his wife's features to calm her anger, and wins out.

Tell a man in January that the sun is 90,000,000 miles away from the earth and he'll believe you. Tell him the same thing in July and he'll call you a wall-eyed liar.

If you only knew how hard a homely girl works to make her face presentable, you would admit that she is just as pretty as she can be.

this time in Capt. Jacob M. Earley's company, and was mustered out at Whitewater, Wis., on July 10, 1832. On the preceding night Lincoln's horse had been stolen so he was obliged to walk from here to Peoria.

At Peoria he fell in with a young major from Springfield, John T. Stuart, and together they bought a canal and paddled down the Illinois river to Havana, where they sold the canal and walked across country to New Salem. Regarding Stuart we quote the following:

"Major Stuart probably had more to do in shaping the political destiny and professional life of Lincoln than any other one man. They first met and became friends during the Black Hawk war and kept up the friendship afterwards. Lincoln began the systematic study of law under his tutelage, borrowing his books, and when admitted to the practice in the spring of 1837 formed a partnership with Stuart. They were of the same political faith and were members of the legislature together. Major Stuart was twice elected to congress and died at Springfield in 1885."

Incidents of Lincoln's War Experience.

On one occasion Lincoln being compelled to pass through a narrow gate with his company and not knowing the proper command for that purpose, he said: "This company will disband and immediately fall in again inside the gate."

On another occasion a friendly Indian who had been given a pass by General Cass came into camp and Lincoln's men determined to kill him. Lincoln pushed the helpless Indian behind him and by entreaties and threats quieted the mob and saved the Indian's life.

At another time Lincoln violated the order of his superior officer by firing a gun within 50 yards of camp and was arrested and deprived of his sword for a day.

Again one of his men got into the officers' quarters and helped himself to what he found there that struck his fancy and passed it around to a few dozen of his friends. The next morning Lincoln had but a handful of men sober enough to march. Lincoln knew nothing about it but was arrested and required to wear a wooden sword for two days.

The nearest Lincoln came to a battle was at Kellogg's Grove on June 25. He arrived shortly after the skirmish and helped to bury the five men who had been killed and scalped by the Indians. Speaking of it in after years Lincoln said: "I remember just how those men looked as we rode up the little hill where their camp was. The red light of the morning sun was streaming upon them as they lay heads toward us on the ground. And every man had a round red spot on top of his head about as big as a dollar where the redskins had taken his scalp. It was frightful and the red sunlight seemed to paint everything all over. I remember that one man had on buckskin breeches."

On returning to New Salem Lincoln renewed his campaign for the legislature with vigor and untiring energy, but was beaten by Peter Cartwright, a pioneer Methodist preacher and an experienced politician. However Lincoln carried his home precinct by 277 to 13. There happened to be 13 who didn't know him. This is the only time Lincoln was ever defeated by direct vote of the people.

As an interesting coincident, in 1846 Lincoln and Cartwright made the race for congress; this time Lincoln was the winner.

The above facts were gleaned from "Lincoln and New Salem," published by the Old Salem Lincoln league, Petersburg, Ill. J. G. PATTERSON.

"All That I Am,"

said Lincoln, "and all that I ever hope to be, I owe to my angel Mother!" It was a beautiful tribute to a mother's love and guidance. With characteristic modesty, Lincoln refused to take due credit to himself.

There was a far more powerful influence than his Mother forcing Lincoln to the front: his invincible determination to get out of the rut, his indomitable will to BE somebody. The fact that today millions of his countrymen are revering his memory, show how well he succeeded.

A savings account, even if the salary be very small, coupled with just a tiny fibre of the Lincolnian spirit to succeed, will put any man on the high road to Prosperity.

BUDDIES COMING TO GRAND MONDAY
The Selwyn's production of "Buddies," direct from twelve consecutive months in the Selwyn theatre, New York, will be the attraction at the Grand theatre next Monday.

In this charming comedy with music the homely and homey doings of the American boys billeted in France make as great an appeal to the audiences as does the fragrant romance of the sweet maid of Brittany, while the music woven by B. C. Hillman in George V. Hobart's story is still another charm of the entertainment. This sensational hit of last year's New York season will be presented here with an exceptionally clever company of players, and the same complete production, which so delighted the Metropolis. The cast includes such distinguished musical artists as Jean Moore, James Marshall, Maurice Clarke, Louis LeRoy, Shirley Love, Clara Palmer, Hedley Hall, Edward Menlove, G. L. Whitcomb, Harry Stanley, Charles Hassong, S. Edward Ortega, Joseph H. Baird, Ann Roos and Louise Clarke.

INCOME TAX FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW.

Deductions for contributions form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers. Contributions during the year to corporate organizations conducting charitable, scientific, educational, and religious work, to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals and to the special fund for vocational rehabilitation are allowable deductions.

For example, a taxpayer whose net income for 1920 amounted to $20,000 may have contributed to the Young Men's Christian Association $1,000, to the Young Women's Christian Association $1,000, toward the construction of a new church $1,000, and to the associated charities of a city $500, a total of $3,500. Fifteen percent of the taxpayer's total net income amounts to $3,000. Therefore, only this amount may be claimed as a deduction and the balance of such contributions must be considered as gifts.

Contributions to a hospital or like institution, the net earnings of which inure to private stockholders are not allowable deductions.

Frequently a deduction is claimed for a contribution to a needy family or individual charity. Such deductions are not allowed, contributions of this kind being considered a gift. Donations to churches are deductible including missionary funds, church building funds, pew rents, church assessments, and church dues.

Deductions for contributions are allowed only for the year in which the contributions were made. Promise of future contributions should not be considered by the taxpayer in filing his return.

JACKSONVILLE WINS FROM JERSEYVILLE

Take Exciting Game in Last Second of Play When Woods Tosses Free Throw — Final Score 15 to 14.

Jacksonville high defeated Jerseyville high in David Prince gymnasium Friday night by a score of 15 to 14. The game was won in the last second of play when Woods tossed a basket from a free throw. The final gun sounded as the ball dropped thru the hoop.

It was no place for a man with weak nerves. The gymnasium during the last quarter was like a mad house. A few minutes after the quarter started Jerseyville tied the score and then took the lead. Then Jacksonville tossed a basket and made the score 14 all. It remained there despite strenuous efforts on the part of the players of both teams to untie the count.

Jacksonville started off like she was going to make a runaway game of it. When the first quarter ended the score was 11 to 1 in our favor. At the end of the half the score was 12 to 5 for us.

When the visitors came on the floor for the second half they seemed to have the locals "nanny." They kept creeping up while Jacksonville was unable to get any points, until finally they tied the score and for a brief period took the lead.

With the crowd in hysterics and both teams fighting like tigers it kept Referee Andrew busy. Neither team was able to hit the hoop tho both several times made shots that made the spectators hold their breath, but the ball would finally roll around the hoop and drop outside.

Just before the final whistle Jerseyville fouled and Woods set himself for a free throw. As the ball dropped thru the hoop the gun sounded and Jacksonville finally had a victory to her credit over Jerseyville the first in several years.

All of the Jacksonville team played excellent ball and did fine work on the defense as is shown by the fact that neither of Jerseyville's forwards scored a point while Seago was held to two field goals.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "pick up" the spirits. Ocand25c

ILLINOIS COLLEGE SURPRISES MILLIKIN

Holds Strong Wann Machine to 25 to 11 Score—Millikin Defense Was Not So Good Against Illinois.

Coach Harmon's Illinois College basketball five surprised Millikin at Decatur last night when they played the Wann machine to a 25 to 11 score.

The much vaunted Wann defense did not look so good against the Illinois offense and in the last half Illinois more than held Millikin even scoring ten points to Millikin's nine.

Illinois with the record of Millikin here last night did not enter the game with as much enthusiasm as she should have done. However, when the men found that Millikin was not invincible they pepped up and made things exceedingly interesting for the Decaturites.

The score at the end of the first half was 17 to 7 in favor of Millikin. In the second half Antrobus with two field goals and six free throws scored all of Illinois' ten points. Many easy shots were missed by Illinois which had they been made might have turned the tide of battle.

So fast was Illinois game when she got started that she had Millikin's defensive players hanging on. The result was the sending of Berry and Curl to the showers by the personal foul route. Lippe and Griswold taking their places.

All of the Illinois players played a good game. This was especially true of Jones and Cully at guard in the second half. Mellon played a good game at center and out-jumped Wallace. The score:

MEREDOSIA HIGH ISSUES STATEMENT

Says Was Not High School Team That Played in Chapin, But Town Team.

In a recent issue of the Journal was an account of a game between Chapin and Meredosia. The story stated the teams were Meredosia and Chapin high teams. The members of the Meredosia high school five take exception to the story and say that it was untrue except as to the score. The following letter from the team explains itself:

Meredosia, Ill.—Sporting editor:—We noticed in Thursday's Journal an account of the Chapin Meredosia basket ball game, played in Chapin Wednesday night. It reads as follows: Chapin high defeats Meredosia high, 60 to 6, which is true.

But it was not the schools playing, but was town teams instead. We consider this an insult to our team as the last game that was played between our high school and Chapin high was a one-sided score of 29 to 8 in our favor.

We think this is only a misprint, but nevertheless we would like for you to correct this as early as possible.

Thanking you in advance,
Yours truly,
Meredosia High School Basket Ball Team.

The Jacksonville Woman's Club will meet this afternoon, 2:30 o'clock at I. O. O. F. Temple on E. State St. The club will observe Lincoln's birthday.

Rev. W. S. Dando Talked to Rotarians About the Development of Ideals — Members Gave Enthusiastic Reports of Inter-City Meet.

Rotarians who attended the Inter-City meeting in Springfield made reports at the weekly luncheon held at the Pacific Hotel Friday. The speaker of the day was Rev. W. S. Dando, associate pastor of the Presbyterian church in Decatur. Mr. Dando talked about fellowship, between father and son and the different conditions that surround young people today by comparison with the conditions which existed a few years ago.

Among the guests at the luncheon were Judge F. W. Burton, Dr. F. P. Norbury, M. R. Kelsey of St. Louis; S. W. Claussen of the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet Co., and F. W. Shaw of the Peoria Creamery Co.

At the business session Secy. E. M. Spink called attention to the state meeting soon to be held at Clinton and also outlined the plan to have 100 per cent attendance on Friday, Feb. 25. Rev. M. L. Pontius, presiding, called upon the following to make reports of the Springfield meeting: R. Y. Rowe, F. J. Blackburn, E. E. Crabtree, L. T. Potter, Dr. A. H. Dollear, Judge Samuel, Eb Spink, H. L. Caldwell, Lloyd T. Hamilton, A. R. Taylor, A. C. Metcalf and J. W. Hubble.

Mr. Pontius expressed his pleasure in introducing Mr. Dando, a minister he learned to admire at Ellington Field down in Texas during the war time. Mr. Dando spoke in a most impressive way on the general subject of the relationship between father and son and the right influences for the proper growth of the boy. He compared present conditions with those of years ago and said since people now have gone down the broad highway of modernism that they must help correct anything wrong about the atmosphere of their own creating.

"You must remember that the boy for whom you hold up high ideals has the right to expect to find those things in your conduct which you advise for him. Man has passed through three great stages. There was a time when 'Thou shalt grab' was the basic thing in the action of all society. Then after a period of development man came to a somewhat better age and 'Thou shalt bargain' became the dominant influence. Down thru the years came another change, perfected largely in the wartime when men found the commandment 'Thou shalt co-operate' to be the realization of the best things in life. That phrase, 'Thou shalt co-operate' is but another form of the commandment 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself' and the period of co-operation means the period of unselfishness and of service."

In closing Mr. Dando quoted a poem he once wrote for Judge Ben Lindsey in which he told, a court story which tended to emphasize the value of a boy's character by contrast with the value of mere money. It was really a very inspiring address.

PARK BOARD PREPARES FOR YEAR'S WORK

Budget Makes Provision for Beginning Betterments in Mauvaisterre Park — Will Build Bridge — Secretary's Report Approved.

The Nichols park board held an important meeting Friday night when the annual report of the secretary was presented and approved. The session was held at the home of Mrs. George Hollinger with A. C. Metcalf presiding in the absence of S. W. Nichols. Mrs. A. Wehl and T. J. Brennan, members of the board, were also present. One of the most important actions taken relates to the development of Mauvaisterre park. In the annual budget which was adopted at this session $5,000 was set aside for the development work referred to. This sum will be only a beginning but the board is very desirous to have something done as soon as possible to make the driveway in the north park available.

The Caldwell Engineering Co. was authorized to draw the plans and specifications for a bridge which it is proposed to build across the Mauvaisterre at the point just east of the new power house. This will really be but the first step toward making the north drive available. The board is hopeful that in addition to finances which come thru taxation that it will be possible to raise some additional funds.

On the recommendation of Secy. Brennan a new system of requisitions was adopted. The requisitions covering purchases hereafter will be issued in triplicate and it is believed that the system will simplify and make more accurate the board's record.

The board recently made a tentative contract for the sale of the frame house on Nichols park grounds if a contractor can be found to move it under satisfactory conditions.

The annual budget as adopted provides for the expenditure of about $12,000 and the board expects to receive this amount of money from taxation and from the receipts from various other sources. Some plans for the further beautifying of the park were discussed and altogether it was a busy session. The annual financial report of Secretary Brennan was read and approved. The main facts as set forth will be published in a later issue.
